ADHD CERTIFICATION COURSE

ADHD CERTIFICATION COURSE

Become a leader in the mental health field and elevate your practice with state-of-the-art advancements for working with clients diagnosed with ADHD. This unique offer is a blend of live and online CE hours that provide you with evidence-based, innovative intervention strategies that will revolutionize your ADHD treatment across the lifespan, using both medication and non-medication approaches.

Begin by joining Dr. Sharon Saline, ADHD-CCSP, in this intensive 2-day course packed with tools and techniques you can use immediately with children and adolescents to improve behavior, gain cooperation and repair relationships. Using strength-based, collaborative approach that synthesizes neurobiology, behavior and emotion, you can create effective, powerful interventions for kids and families that go beyond medication and crisis management.

You'll walk away with concrete, practical strategies that:

- Create a family-centered treatment plan that the client buys into
- Treat the shame, stress and anxiety that often coincide with ADHD
- Reduce meltdowns and conflicts at home and school
- Empower parents and caregivers to be a part of the solution

Sign up today!

Become ADHD-CCSP Certified!

Upon completion of Dr. Saline's 2-day seminar, you will be granted access to 18 hours of free content (with CE credit) by leading ADHD experts, including Dr. Russell Barkley. Topics include:

- Evidence-based medication and psychosocial treatment of ADHD
- ADHD vs. Sluggish Cognitive Tempo (SCT)
- Adult ADHD treatment considerations
- ODD, ASD & Mood Disorders in children & adolescents

Once you have completed both the live and digital content (30 hours total), you will have met the full educational criteria for ADHD-CCSP (Certified Clinical Services Provider) certification through The Institute of ADHD Professionals, endorsed by CHADD. See inside for more details or visit www.adhdcert.com

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. Analyze the biological, behavioral and emotional factors related to ADHD symptoms and executive functioning skills.
2. Appraise the current research on ADHD and executive functioning including medical and non-medical treatment options and socioeconomic and cultural factors affecting young people with ADHD.
3. Assess how the ADHD brain develops through childhood and adolescence and the effect of drugs, alcohol and trauma.
4. Determine how ADHD, learning disabilities and mental health issues impact social and familial relationships.
5. Assess for a range of executive skills in children and adolescents as it relates to treatment planning.
6. Develop effective strategies and collaborative interventions for improving executive functioning skills that increase kids' participation in treatment and promote lasting change.
7. Evaluate how co-existing disorders and learning disabilities impact and interact with ADHD and executive functioning skills.
8. Apply practical treatment interventions that increase motivation and cooperation at home and school for children diagnosed with ADHD.
9. Design an effective treatment plan that integrates CBT, family systems and psychodynamic approaches to engage clients and improve symptomology.
10. Debate successfully on your client's behalf with teachers, administrators, other school personnel or health professionals.
11. Determine warning signs of risky behavior among adolescents diagnosed with ADHD and gain effective tools for addressing them.
12. Investigate the relationship between ADHD and technology and formulate appropriate interventions to help families struggling with screens.

SPEAKER

Sharon Saline, Psy.D., ADHD-CCSP, a licensed clinical psychologist in private practice, is a top expert in how ADHD, learning disabilities and mental health issues affect children, teens and families. Dr. Saline has worked extensively with schools on mental health issues in the classroom, interpreting psychological evaluations and improving teacher/parent communication. She funnels this expertise into her forthcoming book, What Your ADHD Child Wishes You Knew: Working Together to Empower Kids for Success in School and Life. Heralded as an invaluable resource, she addresses hot topics and offers effective tools designed to improve communication and reduce conflict. Dr. Saline is a monthly contributor the Dear Parent Teen Coach column for ADDitudemag.com.

As an internationally sought-after lecturer and workshop facilitator known for combining her expertise in psychology with a background in theater, she addresses a variety of topics such as understanding ADHD and executive functioning, making sense of the teen brain and working with different kinds of learners. Dr. Saline is a part-time lecturer in the continuing education program at the Smith School for Social Work and the founder and co-facilitator of "Got kids? Let's talk!" a monthly parenting series in Western Massachusetts. A graduate of Brown University, she received her master's degree in psychology from New College of California and her doctorate in psychology from the California School of Professional Psychology at Alliant University. Sharon lives with her family in Northampton, MA. More information is available at www.drsharon saline.com, Facebook and Twitter:
